Heilind Electronics Honored with Omron's Best in Class Award for 2010

WILMINGTON, Mass., June 25 /PRNewswire/ -- Omron Electronic Components LLC presented Heilind Electronics, Inc., the largest interconnect distributor in North America, their 2010 Best in Class North American distributor partner award. Chose Omron's field sales force, the award is based on sales and customer growth and a commitment to Omron sales initiatives a strategic efforts. Demonstrating the required achievements of a Best in Class award recipient, Heilind posted a 50% increase in connector sales in the fiscal year just ended and a 32% increase in overall sales in the second half of the fiscal year vs. the first half while continuing to build its extensive inventory of Omron strategic products.

"We are very pleased once again to have our efforts acknowledged by Omron. This is absolutely a team effort and I'm very proud of the Heilind team and how well they are working with the Omron team," commented Heilind President Bob Clapp.

Omron's Distribution Sales Manager, Ms. Kris Whitehouse, responded, "Heilind continues to be a solid partner. They stock, promote and sell our key products, but most importantly, they are strategically working with the Omron Sales Force across the United States, Canada, Mexico and Mexico. We are very proud of the progress we've made between our two organizations."

Heilind is one of Omron's largest distributors and maintains one of the broadest and deepest inventories of Omron products in North America, including connectors, switches, relays, and sockets. In addition, Heilind offers a powerful and flexible product supply chain and logistics management tools & services, while delivering unsurpassed customer service.
